Welcome to the Sale!

Dear Friends,

I never thought I would ever write a greeting to my dispersal sale, but I welcome you to view my cow herd and appraise them. They have been a huge part of my life since I was a kid.

This adventure started with my grandfather buying two steers for my dad and his brother probably in the 1940's. It blossomed from there. My three brothers and I showed cattle all our 4-H careers. It was our sport, "4-H calves." If you wanted to find the Miller boys, go to the barn; they'd be with their calves. Our biggest accomplishment was in 1976. My brother Steve had Grand Steer at the Indiana State Fair. The very same day, my cousin had Grand Steer at the Maryland State Fair, for which I was working with my uncle, Dr. Miller.

Our family has sold club calves for the better part of 50 years. Those calves have won pretty much from coast to coast. I've sold them private treaty, live auction, phone bid, bid board, and online. And now, I sell the cows today.

There have been a lot of trends in this business. I guess I have stayed pretty much with my own ideas that cattle need to be sound, thick, have some size and bone, and be efficient. You can go to extremes in different ways, but these basic ideas always seem to work best for me.

The term "club calf" has kind of a bad rep in cattle circles lately it seems. I really don't know why and it seems silly to me because 95% of all people that are in the business showed a steer at the county fair. It truly is one of the most rewarding experiences a young person can have.

Many people have asked me why I am selling and what am I going to do. There are a lot of reasons and each one has its own part in it. Last summer I had a mini stroke, or T.A. I didn't know if it scared me or made me realize I'm not indestructible. It happened in the presence of my grandson. I couldn't talk, just mumble. Another reason is my lovely wife, Diane. She's been very patient with me each year. She asks me if we could take a long weekend somewhere. I always say okay, but it never happens. My daughter maybe said it best one day when I was talking to her about this. She told me that now I can start saying yes instead of no to functions.

About the cattle: my cows are well taken care of but they have to function on their own and they have to raise calves that make money or I do not keep them. They get high quality hay, plus we chop my first cuttings of grass hay and legumes to make haylage. When grass comes on, they are on pasture during breeding season and the rest of the summer, up till December where they are on fall pastures. They are not dry lotted or fed corn silage to fatten them up for a sale. So, if you're expecting to see fat cows, you're not. You're going to see darn good cows with darn good calves.

I really didn't know how good the cows were until Rob Carpenter clipped them this spring because I was so used to seeing them every day that I never looked at them. We only got a few for the catalog but Kayla could have pictured every cow and been proud of the results. They make me proud.

On picture day, we did about 50 cows and 15 calves. For the most part, the cows posed good but the calves were separated most of the day, then pictured in the end so they really wanted nothing to do with it! With that being said, there aren't many calf pictures, but don't worry, the calves won't disappoint you. I think I have some of the best ones I have ever raised and I know you will do very well with them.

If you've ever done this before then you know how hard it is to encapsulate so many years of work into a sale catalog; it is also very emotional. I pride myself on knowing a lot about these cows and their calves but it is amazing how much I forgot when I went to write it down, so forgive me if I forgot something or got a name or something else wrong or omitted. I thought it was easiest to just go back and check my sale reports from recent years to give you an idea of what some of the cows have done, but some have done much more or some are too young to have done much yet. Either way, I am sure more will jump into my head as the sale gets closer and as more friends and customers call to remind me. Each day I think of at least one thing new about these cattle and what they have done. Feel free to call or text me if you need more information.

I'd like to thank hundreds of people, but space won't allow it; you know who you are (namely Mike & Teresa Rose and Mark Sneed). From the high school guys that have grown up and their sons and daughters are showing, to the college guys and girls now. One young man told me, "You helped me pay for my college with the work you provided me." That young man is now having sales of his own and teaching school. That young man is Colton Prescott. Another young man would ask his dad, "Has Wayne Miller called for me to clip calves after school?" That young man is Todd Caldwell.

But the biggest thanks goes to my family. My dad Wayne who watches from heaven. My mom, Joyce. My daughters Miranda, Kristina, and Mirissa, and my brothers Steve and Johnny. Johnny has stood behind me everyday when I needed help. He may have cussed a few times but if it took us until 10 at night to get the feeding done, it would get done. Diane, my wife, never complained. She always supported me, has amazing faith, and she smiles when my days are bad.

Take these cattle home. Take care of them and reap the benefits of a lifetime of work. Most all the cows will have a straw of semen in them from the most popular AI sires available.

SIRE: IRISH WHISKEY SON
DAM: ANGUS CROSS

Sells with a 2/06 heifer by Risk It For Biscuit

This is a model cow; you can never have too many like her. She looks great, handles great, and works better. Her size, muscle, and body shape lend her to work in a variety of combinations. Her Steel Force son was a great bull, she had a $4,200 Monopoly heifer, a pair of Here I Am calves that averaged $3,350, and her current heifer is sure to be popular; she is big, hairy, square, and fancy. A smart man would flush this cow.

Sells with a 2/17 heifer by Ain't Bluffin

A beautiful cow with a beautiful calf, this is one superb Whiskey calf raiser. She has been a 100% producer of quality with calves selling to Idaho, Iowa, and Georgia from $3,600 to $5,050. This cow has a look that I love – flat necked and powerful with balance and udder shape plus a little size – and her current heifer calf has a world of potential; she is big and classy and very cool.

Sells with a 3/25 heifer by Trump Train

The high dollar raisin' kind, this cow is fun to look at and she works great. She has the chisel necked, large butted build that made Whiskey famous and she has been a real money maker for us. Her 2015 Monopoly heifer sold for $7,500, and she also weaned a $5,200 bull and a $8,450 steer by Monopoly that showed in Indiana. This cow is protective for a bit after calving but not too bad, and she has a fancy, peach-colored heifer on her now.

Sells with a 2/15 heifer by No Guts No Glory...Bred 4/19 to 1OAK

The best Eye Candy female I ever had, this cow is an eye-ful of quality! She is a little testy at calving time but other than that she is hard to change in anyway. She is really sexy and productive; great feet, perfect bone, excellent hair, high necked, and stout enough. She had a $4,200 steer that went to Caldwell, IL, and a $3,800 heifer that went to Ohio in 2017, and her current calf is one of our best. She offers maximum shag from top to bottom and she is super wide and sound with the leg and belly shape that is in demand today. Her 2016 bull brought $3,000, another brought $3,100 and her 2018 HIA son shown here went to Colorado for $2,900.

Sells with a 1/24 bull by Here I Am

This is an amazing cow and she has an amazing calf on her, one of the best I have ever raised. This calf has already been very popular, and we think he has a world of potential as either a bull or steer. This cow is getting older but she is obviously still producing on a high level, and she always has. She had an $8,000 Man Among Boys steer in 2014, his $6,000 full sister in 2015, and she has also had calves at $7,250, $4,750, and $4,600. This cow has not been flushed until this spring and our partner on her is keeping some embryos from her as she is the last female from a very productive cow family. This cow is very unique and her bull calf is a great one.

SIRE: MAINE-ANJOU

Sells with a 3/01 bull by Trump Train - Bred 4/17 to Here I Am

*This is an incredible cow and I owe her a lot. She is the dam of three steers that have sold from $6,100-$8,500 with one of them reselling for $35,000 so far. One of those steers was down by the Heintz family in Ohio to several banners like Grand Champion Prospect of the Purdue AGR Preview and 3rd Overall Market Steer of the 2016 Ohio State Fair. This cow flushes well and looks great, as good as ever really, and she has another good bull calf on her now; a smoky, stout one. An amazing beast and one of the most valuable and popular in the herd, this cow is one that most visitors remember and ask about. Not surprisingly, she is the dam of two of the best calves in our last two crops. She had the $7,200 Here I Am heifer that went to Missouri last year, and she had a $5,600 steer by Man Among Boys that Todd Caldwell sent to Florida in 2017. Her babies have looked a lot like her – horse necked, huge backed and bellied, and wild hairy - and that is a great thing. Her photo is great but this thing is way better in person. #### A letter from 4 Roses Cattle...

In 2013 we found ourselves with more cows than we had the time or the help to take care of. Then one afternoon I received a call from a young man who was helping us out at the time that Teresa had been taken by a cow and that he was taking her to the hospital. A couple of broken bones, a few lacerations, and a short stay in the hospital later it was clear that our time taking care of cows needed to come to an end. I reached out to a man that I knew and respected as one of the great cowboys on our side of the Mississippi. Now 6 years later we count our blessings to have been associated with Jeff Miller as a partner in the cattle business and more importantly as a friend and a man of great faith! We have included a few of our cows in this sale with Jeff's consent and encouragement. With a little arm twisting we have also convinced Jeff to continue to manage the bulk of our cows for a little while longer. As Jeff disperses his cow herd, I can tell you to bid and buy with confidence on the lifetime work of a truly great cowboy!

God Bless and All the Best,
Four Roses

Friends and Cattlemen:

It is an honor for me to work with Jeff Miller and manage his dispersal/retirement event. He has been breeding good cattle since I started in the business – and longer – and I have had the opportunity to work for him on several occasions. We've sold show steers, show heifers, bred females, bulls, and embryos together for more than 25 years, and he was one of the people on the seats and buying at one of the first dispersal sales I managed. We've always done good business. He is one of the few things that have not changed much in this business.

I had not been to see Jeff for a while when he called me this past fall so we decided to set up a visit. I knew the cows I was going to see would be good but I did not realize they would be this good, and deep. You can see how Jeff has put his personal stamp of approval on each of these cows and there is a world of quality and opportunity to go around. I know you will be glad you came; the new calves just make it better.

There are going to be lots of great success stories that arise from purchases made this May 18, I know it. When the cattle are this good it always happens. Jeff has removed the guess work from these cattle because he uses them to pay bills; it's a professional's cow herd.

Please plan to attend. The auction WILL NOT BE BROADCAST online but we have plenty of knowledgeable folks that can help you out with buying should you not be able to attend – look for them on page 3. It is easy to see the cattle at the sale site but you can also see them any time prior to May 14 in their normal environment.

Please let me know if I can assist you in anyway prior to the auction. I'll be happy to make some selections for you out of this special lineup.

Enjoy the spring and enhance your cow herd on May 18,
Craig Reiter, Auction Event Manager

Thank you for your interest and years of support and friendship.
It's been awesome.
Here's to new beginnings.
